First Fortune-Creating Home in Sydney, Australia

The first Fortune-Creating Home to be completed in Sydney, New South Wales is a magnificent, East facing, three storey brick rendered house located in a beautiful North Shore residential suburb. From the top of a cliff overlooking the upper reaches of Sydney Harbour the home has tranquil bush views to the North and North-East.

Applying the principles of Vedic Architecture to the lot and house design presented many significant challenges however the owners enthusiastically, creatively and determinedly focused their energies over a four year period to achieve a grand result. Designing and building this home has been and continues to be a very evolutionary experience and creating the first Fortune-Creating Home in a large city like Sydney has been a huge task. We are very proud of the owners and their home – it is a wonderful expression of creating Heaven on Earth.

The owners came to the Maharishi Sthapatya Veda Consultation Service in 2002 saying they had read and investigated so much information on Vastu that they were completely confused and exasperated. The clear, simple and fundamental approach used in Maharishi Sthapatya Veda, although precise and detailed, made the path forward inviting and the task ahead understandable and achievable. The owners and their architect attended a MSV seminar in Sydney and soon the old complex plans made way for new, fresh and exciting plans. The architect on completing the first round of Vedic Architecture designs commented on how connected and flowing they were and was very impressed with the better use of space and the improved efficiency.

The owners elected to be Owner-Builders and contracted all trades throughout the building phase. They undertook the management and organization of the entire project, including selecting and ordering materials, equipment and appliances. The home has 3 bedrooms plus a self contained unit on the Western side of the ground floor, a large dedicated meditation room, a delightful outdoor entertainment area and pool on the North-East, a roof top terrace/garden and a detached garage and studio. There were many obstacles/opportunities along the way and it was a long journey but they have succeeded spectacularly.

Another beautiful warm timber two storey Fortune-Creating Home in a Northern Beach suburb of Sydney will be completed soon. Reg and Sally Paling were the first clients to use the Maharishi Sthapatya Veda Consultation Service in Australia and started their house in 1996. Half the house was built then and now the other half is almost complete. Like the three storey house above it has been a focused and determined undertaking to design, build and raise consciousness in a very difficult city environment. We will feature this home in a future article.
